

Cat and Mouse

Form of organisation: groups of 4

Materials: blindfold or something to blindfold the eyes

Description of the game:

One person is the mouse, the other person is the cat. Both get blindfolded. The cat has a "coach" and the mouse has a "coach". The task is that the mouse finds her mouse hole before she is caught by the cat. A marked area serves as pitch. The coaches may not talk, but only give instructions by snapping their fingers or clapping their hands. Such instructions may be previously agreed (go, stop, right, left - 1x, 2x snapping or clapping)

Aim: blind faith in dangerous situations
